About me

I am a self-taught developer with over six years of experience in IT. I specialize in backend development, API design, and creating Telegram bots using Python. I have strong skills in database architecture, building reliable services, and process automation. I have launched and maintained my own projects with real users. I am responsible, eager to learn new technologies quickly, and able to work both independently and as part of a team.

Work experience

Telegram Developer · Temnomor · Tyumen
September 2023 - Present · 1 year 8 months

In 2023, I joined the Temnomor team. It provides a simple way for students of MPC TIU (Multiprofile College of Tyumen Industrial University) to receive their schedules on different platforms. I developed a Telegram bot, which helped to grow the number of users. Now, more than 4,500 students use Temnomor services.
